Ikanaide - English Lyrics (From JubyPhonic)

Thought to myself “I’m okay, I don’t feel a thing”
But, in the end, there’s a drag weighing down on me
Running on ahead again, you seemed to escape
Every step, never touching down
Couldn’t do a thing but stare without a sound

Guided away, you walk to a train while I’m standing left behind
Dashing off instead, I reach out ahead but can’t make it through the room in time
Eyes getting wet, don't be upset, but my heart really wants to cry
“Don't go away yet”

You’re moving onto far and beyond, while I’m standing left behind
Night running low and leaves me alone, dissolving you from my mind
Eyes getting wet, don't be upset, but my heart really wants to cry
“Don't go away yet”

Festival abating now I’m waiting for reality
Yes, in the end, every night is the same old thing
Breaking through it all, you were bright, standing tall
How could I only see this now?
Couldn’t do a thing but stare without a sound

The clock moving on, it drags me along with feet buried in the ground
Road going home is dark and alone, but I’ll make it out alive somehow
Flicks in the night, a lamp giving light, my long shadow left behind
I’m on my own, aren’t I?

You’re moving onto far and beyond, while I’m standing left behind
Night blurring out without any doubt, again it’ll fill my mind
Eyes getting wet, don't be upset, but my heart really wants to cry
“Don't go away yet”
